He said to them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the labourers are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers into his harvest. -- Luke 10:2
Whose harvest is it? The happy experience country people had of the harvest was commonly used by Jesus in parables of the Kingdom of God. A bountiful harvest was promised. It was partly to emphasize the great love and generosity of God, partly to tell of his grace in giving us far more than we can ask or deserve, and partly, as in this account, to declare the greatness of the victory that was being won over evil. For an agricultural community it was a homely way of pointing to great opportunities. Now Jesus is saying the time has come. God has prepared great things. -- ask the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers into his harvest. -- his harvest.
